DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

The restriction requirement mailed October 1, 2002 is withdrawn. Claims 1-99 are pending.

Priority

Applicant has not complied with one or more conditions for receiving the benefit of an earlier filing date under 35 U.S.C. 120 as follows:

This application is claiming the benefit of a prior filed nonprovisional application under 35 U.S.C. 120. Copendency between the current application and the prior application is required. Applicant's have claimed priority to 09/373,224, which was abandoned on October 6, 2000. There is no copendency since the current application was filed on January 4, 2001.

Oath/Declaration

The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because Applicant has made an improper domestic priority claim.

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: the domestic priority claim in the first sentence of the specification should be removed. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Objections

Claims 9, 30, 56, 68, 72, 76, 82 and 84 are objected to because of the following informalities:

- In line 3 of claim 9, "member" should be replaced with --device-- to properly refer to its antecedent;
- In line 1 of claims 30 and 56, "is" should be deleted;
- One of the two periods in claim 68 should be removed;
- Claims 72, 76 and 82 should end with a period; and
- In line 1 of claim 84, "practicedto" should read --practiced to--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 33-42 and 58-66 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear what action is performed on the hydraulic fluid to contract the cavity.

See "and hydraulic fluid ..." in lines 5 and 6 of claims 33 and 58.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 6, 23, 25, 27-31, 43-45, 50-57, 67-69, 71, 91, 93 and 98 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Miller. Miller discloses an apparatus and method for operation about or within a constrictable passageway. An exemplary use is for an artificial esophagus. See col. 3, II. 54-57 and col. 12, II. 49-55. An implanted adjustment device (106, 107) changes the size of an implanted adjustable restriction device (100). An implanted sensor monitors internal body conditions and the adjustment device is adjusted using a microprocessor controlled device. See col. 5, I. 58 to col. 6, I. 3 and col. 6, II. 31-42. The implanted control device (112) communicates with an external control unit/wireless remote control (1310). See col. 6, II. 4-22. The control device (112) contains a clock mechanism, which is used to activate the adjustment device (106) at different times of the day. See col. 5, II. 45-57. Miller further discloses various sources of deriving electric energy including power transmitted transcutaneously and batteries. See col. 6, II. 55-65. Examiner considers surgically implanting the adjustable restriction device (100) an inherent feature in the disclosed method. In addition, Examiner considers an accumulator as an inherent feature of a transcutaneous energizing system.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8, 72, 75, 77, 82, 85 and 87 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miller as applied to claims 1 and 71 above. Miller discloses monitoring blood pressure and adjusting the applied pressure in proportion to the blood pressure (col. 6, ll. 31-33), but does not teach adjusting in proportion to pressure in the stomach or esophagus. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a pressure sensor to monitor the stomach or esophagus since Miller discloses an artificial esophagus embodiment and it was known in the art that pressure in the esophagus or stomach must be monitored when using an artificial esophagus.

Claim 32 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miller as applied to claims 1, 29 and 30 above. Miller discloses an apparatus as recited for claims 1, 29 and 30. While teaching a mechanism for powering the adjustment device, Miller does not disclose powering the sensor. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to power the sensor from wireless energy since it was known in the art that various biomedical devices can be powered transcutaneously.

Claims 46, 48, 49 and 70 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miller as applied to claims 1, 45, 50 and 69 above. Miller discloses an apparatus as recited for claims 1, 45, 50 and 69. Miller does not teach a capacitor as an accumulator. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a capacitor as an accumulator since it was known in the art that a capacitor stores an electrical charge.

Claim 47 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miller as applied to claim 1 above. Miller discloses an apparatus as recited for claim 1. While teaching a mechanism for powering the adjustment device, Miller does not disclose a battery for powering the sensor. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to power the sensor using a battery since it was known in the art that various biomedical devices can be powered using an implantable battery.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-4, 9-17, 19, 43, 71, 82, 88, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 69-75 of U.S. Patent No. 6,475,136 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device, a sensor and control unit are claimed. The adjustment device is adjusted according to signals from the sensor. An external control unit and a horizontal sensor are also claimed.

Claims 1, 2, 29-32, 43-49, 71, 82, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 40, 41, 44-47, 58, 74-76 and 81-88 of U.S. Patent No. 6,470,892 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because Forsell claims an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device, a sensor and energy transmission means.

Claims 1-8, 29-32, 43-49, 71, 82, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 36-39, 62-73, 129 and 137-139 of U.S. Patent No. 6,450,946 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

Claims 1-5, 8, 23, 29-32, 43-50, 55-57, 67-71, 82, 91, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5, 7-12, 14, 48-54, 58, 59, 95-100 of U.S. Patent No. 6,450,173 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

Claims 1-4, 8, 23, 29, 30, 43-50, 55, 56, 67-72, 82, 91, 93 and 98 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8, 10, 12-16, 22, 42-47, 72-77, 86 and 87 of copending Application No. 10/253,608. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claims 1-4, 8, 23, 29-32, 43-50, 55-57, 67-72, 82, 91, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 11, 12, 38-49, 63-69 and 93-96 of U.S. Patent No. 6,453,907 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

Claims 1-5, 8, 29-33, 43-49, 71, 72, 82, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5, 9-17, 48-53, 56-65 and 95-100 of U.S. Patent No. 6,454,699 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

Claims 1-5, 8, 29-33, 43-49, 71, 82, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 9, 20, 37-47 and 62-70 of U.S. Patent No. 6,454,700 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

Claims 1-5, 7, 8, 29-33, 43-49, 71, 82, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 11, 22, 38-47 and 64-71 of U.S. Patent No. 6,454,701 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

Claims 1-5, 7, 8, 29-33, 43-49, 71, 82, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 12, 47-50, 63-69, 77, 78, 85-90, 101, 103, 149-156, 161, 162 and 169 of U.S. Patent No. 6,461,293 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

Claims 1-5, 7, 8, 29-33, 43-49, 71, 82, 93 and 98 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-4, 12, 15, 16, 37-41, 77-83, 91-93 and 99 of U.S. Patent No. 6,463,935 to Forsell. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because an adjustable restriction device, an adjustment device (operation device), a sensor and control unit are claimed. An external control unit is also claimed.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 99 is allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art does not disclose a method of implanting an adjustable restriction device, adjustment device and sensor in a laparoscopic surgical procedure.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Claims 18, 20-22, 24, 26, 73, 74, 76, 78-81, 83, 84, 86, 89, 90, 92 and 94-97 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

In re Application of :
Forsell : OFFICE OF PETITIONS
Filed: August 12, 1999 : ON PETITION
Application No. 09/373,224 :
Docket No.: 2333-20 :

This is a decision on the petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b), filed December 10, 2003, to revive the above-identified application.

This application became abandoned October 7, 2000 for failure to timely file a proper response to the non-final Office action mailed July 6, 2000. The non-final Office action set a three (3) day month period of time for response. No extensions of time in accordance with 37 CFR 1.136(a) were timely obtained. Notice of Abandonment was mailed February 13, 2001.

A grantable petition under 37 CFR 1.137(b) must be accompanied by: (1) the required reply; (2) the petition fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(m); (3) a statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date of the reply until the filing of a grantable petition was unintentional. The Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional; and (4) any terminal disclaimer (and fee as set forth in 37 CFR 1.20(d)) required pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section.

The instant petition has been reviewed and found in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.137(b). Accordingly, the failure to timely reply to the non-final Office action mailed July 6, 2000 is accepted as having been unintentionally delayed.

The above-identified application is being revived solely for purposes of continuity. As continuity has been established by this decision reviving the application, the application is again abandoned in favor of continuation application serial number 09/753,656.

Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136, an extension of time must be filed prior to the expiration of the maximum period obtainable for reply to avoid abandonment. The $950.00 extension of time fee submitted with the instant petition was subsequent to the maximum period obtainable for reply. Thus, this fee is unnecessary. A refund may be requested by writing to the Finance Office, Refund Section. A copy of this decision should accompany any such request.

There is no indication that petitioner herein was ever empowered to prosecute the instant application. If petitioner desires to receive future correspondence regarding this application, the appropriate power of attorney documentation and change of correspondence address must be submitted. A courtesy copy of this decision will be mailed to petitioner, however, all future correspondence will be directed to the address of record unless the Office is notified otherwise in writing.

This application file is being forwarded to Files Repository.

Telephone inquiries related to this decision may be directed to the undersigned at (703) 305-0310.
